

Photo courtesy of Kat

Jamal

1971—Talking Brad (1114). Darker skin.

1971—Talking Ken (1111).

Soul Train Jamal

M#: 10288 BD: 1992 HC: Painted Black. C: Pleather navy blue walking shorts. Yellow tank-top. Long matching navy blue pleather jacket with multi color Kente-print sleeves l/s. Multi-color Kente-print cap. Black boots with string ties.

<http://www.manbehindthedoll.com>

CLARENCE PAGE, Chicago Tribune: Like a rainbow, she comes in colors. Mick Jagger sang that once. He might well have been singing about Barbie, the modern Barbie. There's a dark brown Barbie, a light brown Barbie. There's an Asian Barbie, and a Native American Indian Barbie. There's a Puerto Rican Barbie, complete with traditional dress and a brief history of the island on the box. And, of course, there's the original Barbie. She's pink and blond. She's the one who first captured the heart of Ken.

80's on: Dolls from the 1980's to the present. Totally Hair Ken, Basketball Kevin, Workout Jazzie, Big Brother Ken, Pizza Party Courtney, Pearl Beach Skipper, Romeo, Flashlight Fun Janet, Purple Panic Christie, Army Ken, Tommy, Kelly, Jenny, Tommy and Deidre.

